1. Background Information

The Swedish committee for circular migration and development are looking at ways to make it easier for migrants to move between Sweden and their countries of origin, this in order to facilitate development. The committee has identified students as a key group regarding development in both country of destination and country of origin. The international students are potential labour immigrants and future circular migrants. One of the issues that the committee is discussing is the possibility for international students to remain in Sweden for a period after they have finished their studies to apply for jobs. Answers would very much be appreciated as soon as possible, preferably before 15 February.

	Netherlands	Yes	After completing a study at a higher education institution or university in the Netherlands, former students can obtain a residence permit for a so called 'search year' directly following their legal stay based on their study. This enables them during a maximum of one year to look for a position as a high skilled worker. The former student must be able to provide for himself during that year and is free to work without a work permit. Besides this arrangement, a student can also apply for a residence permit for work straight away after completing his studies if he has found an employer who has successfully applied for a work permit for him, or if he has found a position as a high skilled migrant.
	Poland	Yes	In general, Polish provisions do not let graduated foreign students to stay in the territory of Poland in order to apply for a job. However, it is important to notify that on the ground of the § 2 (26a) of the Regulation of the Minister of Labour and Social Policy on work performing by foreigners without the obligation to obtain the work permit graduates from the Polish secondary schools or graduates from the full-time studies or doctoral studies at the Polish universities and other entities may perform work in Poland without being granted the work permit (this permit is in general obligatory for foreigners – with exceptions- and only an employee may apply for the abovementioned work permit to be issued to a foreigner). Apart from that and with regard to the art. 53.1(16) of the Act of 2003 on Foreigners and the art. 87.2(1) of the Act of 2004 on promotion of employment and the labour market institutions, third country students are authorized to stay in Poland (on the basis of the residence permit for a fixed period – up to 2 years) and work without the work permit. So the foreign student may use this time to apply for a job in the territory of Poland.
	Portugal	Yes	In Portugal, once third-country students complete their studies they are not allowed to remain in the Country to apply for jobs. However, if these students accessorially carry out with a work activity during their studies, once such studies are completed they may exceptionally apply for a residence permit for work purposes, in case there are extremely important reasons of national interest and if the residence permit for purposes of studies has not been issued on the scope of cooperation agreements with third countries.”
	Slovak Republic	Yes	Generally, an international student (third country national) does not need a work permit if he/she is granted a temporary residence permit for the purpose of study and his/her employment in the territory of the Slovak Republic does not exceed 10 hours per week or the corresponding number of days/months per year. After finishing his/her studies there is no adaptation period. The student needs to search for an employment opportunity in sufficient advance in order to find an employer willing to employ him/her (who will confirm his intention to employ the foreign national directly in the work permit application) at least 4 months before the expiration of his/her temporary residence permit for the purpose of study. The student (in case he/she does not fall under the categories of foreign nationals who are not required to apply for a work permit) needs to submit a written application for work permit to a locally competent Office of Labour, Social Affairs and Family. The Office will issue its decision within 30 days from the application submission. In case the student is granted a work permit, he/she needs to apply for a temporary residence permit for the purpose of employment, granted by the Alien Police Department of the Police Corps of the Slovak Republic within 90 days from the application submission. Therefore the student should apply for a work permit at least 4 months prior to expiration of his/her current temporary residence permit for the purpose of study and subsequently apply for temporary residence permit

			for the purpose of employment no later than 90 days prior to expiration of his/her current temporary residence permit for the purpose of study. Students holding a temporary residence permit for the purpose of study who completed their studies may apply for a temporary residence permit for the purpose of employment at the competent Alien Police Department in the territory of the Slovak Republic. The work permit and temporary residence permit for the purpose of employment may be granted for a maximum period of two years and may be further extended.
	Sweden	Yes	Under certain conditions a student can apply for a work permit while still in Sweden. The student must have been offered a job in Sweden, furthermore he/she must have fulfilled courses comprising of 30 ETCS and have a valid student visa to be able to apply for a work permit. At the moment the student visa covers the period while the student are still studying, and another week or two to get organised for the trip back. Hence, there is currently virtually no possibility to stay in Sweden after the studies finished if the student has not yet found a job.
	United Kingdom	Yes	Under current rules Third Country Nationals that enter the UK to study, and who are awarded a: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· A Higher National Diploma from a Scottish institution;</li> <li>· A recognised UK bachelors or postgraduate degree;</li> <li>· A post graduate certificate in Education; or</li> <li>· A post graduate diploma of education</li> </ul> are able to apply for a Post-Study Work visa within a year of their graduation from a UK-based university. This special visa category is administered under Tier 1 for Highly-Skilled migrants and as such does not require sponsorship by an employer. Tier 1 Post Study Work migrants are able to work in the UK for up to two years. However, they are expected to “switch” into Tier 1 (General) or Tier 2, the skilled workers tier, once they have found a job that allows them to meet the entry criteria of these categories. The UK Government is currently reviewing the legislation in this area as part of the review of the student immigration system; a recent Government report found that the majority of international graduates who responded to a survey were not undertaking highly-skilled employment during their period of leave. Graduate unemployment rates amongst UK graduates are increasing, and so the Government is considering whether it is right to give unrestricted access to (in 2009 approximately 38,000 migrants were granted leave under the Tier 1 Post Study Work category).
	Norway	Yes	Under current rules Third Country Nationals in Norway who qualify as skilled workers, and have a valid residence permit for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>· Study</li> <li>- Norwegian language course for skilled worker</li> <li>- Additional education in order for the students education to be recognized in Norway</li> <li>- Researcher with own funds</li> <li>- Cultural purposes</li> </ul>
